myGICalc Privacy Policy

Last Updated: September 20, 2026

This Privacy Policy explains how myGICalc ("myGICalc," "we," "us," or "our") collects, uses, discloses, and protects information in connection with the website located at mygicalc.com and www.mygicalc.com and its tools, calculators, and features (collectively, the "Service"). By using the Service, you agree to the practices described in this Policy. If you do not agree, do not use the Service.

1. Important Note About Health Information

The Service allows you to enter health-related values, such as calprotectin or CRP results and dates, to generate educational interpretations. You are not required to provide your name or any information that identifies you in order to use the Service. We encourage you to avoid entering directly identifying information.

myGICalc is an educational tool and is not a healthcare provider, health plan, or healthcare clearinghouse. As such, myGICalc generally is not a "covered entity" or "business associate" under the U.S. Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA), and information you enter is not protected by HIPAA. Depending on your location, other privacy laws (such as the GDPR or state privacy laws) may apply to your information.

2. Information We Collect

Information you provide. Values, dates, and any optional inputs you enter into the tools; and any information you provide if you contact us (such as your email address).

Information collected automatically. When you use the Service, we and our service providers may automatically collect technical and usage information, including:

- Device type, browser type, operating system, and screen settings;
- Pages visited, features used, referring pages, and dates/times of access;
- Cookies, local storage, and similar technologies (see Section 6).

Locally stored data. Some features, such as your calprotectin or CRP history and trend chart, may store the values you enter locally on your own device (for example, in your browser's local storage) so they persist between visits. Where this is the case, that data remains on your device and is not transmitted to us unless otherwise stated.

3. How We Use Information

We use information to:

- Provide, operate, and maintain the Service and its educational features;
- Generate the interpretations, trend charts, and content you request;
- Understand how the Service is used and improve its performance, design, and content;
- Monitor for security, prevent fraud or abuse, and maintain the integrity of the Service;
- Respond to your inquiries;
- Comply with legal obligations and enforce our Terms of Use.

We do not sell your personal information. We do not use the health values you enter to make any decision about you, and we do not provide them to any healthcare provider or insurer.

4. How We Share Information

We may share information only as follows:

- Service providers. With vendors who host, analyze, or support the Service (e.g., hosting, analytics, error monitoring), who are permitted to use the information only to provide services to us.
- Legal and safety. When required by law, subpoena, or legal process, or to protect the rights, property, or safety of myGICalc, our users, or others.
- Business transfers. In connection with a merger, acquisition, financing, or sale of assets, subject to this Policy.
- With your consent. In any other manner you direct or approve.

We do not otherwise disclose the information you enter into the Service.

5. Data Security

We use reasonable administrative, technical, and physical safeguards designed to protect information. However, no method of transmission or storage is completely secure, and we cannot guarantee absolute security. You use the Service and provide information at your own risk.

6. Cookies and Analytics

The Service may use cookies, local storage, and similar technologies to remember your inputs, understand usage, and improve performance. We may use third-party analytics providers that set their own cookies and process data according to their own privacy policies. You can control cookies through your browser settings; disabling them may affect certain features.

7. Your Choices and Rights

- Local data. You can clear values stored on your device using the Service's reset function or your browser's settings.
- Do Not Track. The Service may not respond to browser "Do Not Track" signals.

- Access and deletion. To request access to, correction of, or deletion of information we hold about you, contact us at mygicalc.com@gmail.com

Depending on where you live, you may have additional rights under laws such as the EU/UK GDPR (access, rectification, erasure, restriction, portability, objection, and the right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority) or U.S. state privacy laws (such as the right to know, delete, correct, and opt out of certain processing). We will honor applicable rights as required by law. Where we rely on consent, you may withdraw it at any time.

8. Children's Privacy

The Service is not directed to children under 18 (or the applicable age of majority), and we do not knowingly collect information from them. If you believe a child has provided information, contact us and we will take appropriate steps to delete it.

We retain automatically collected and contact information only as long as necessary for the purposes described in this Policy or as required by law. Data stored locally on your device is retained until you clear it.

11. Changes to This Policy

We may update this Policy from time to time by posting a revised version with an updated "Last Updated" date. Material changes will be indicated as appropriate. Your continued use of the Service after changes become effective constitutes acceptance of the revised Policy.
